by ReEmployAbility[®]

Return-to-Work that Connects People to a Greater Purpose

Employers can significantly reduce workers' compensation and non-occupational disability claims costs by returning injured employees to the workforce as soon as they are released to modified or light duty. ReEmployAbility's Transition2Work[®] program provides transitional employment with a nonprofit agency for employees when the pre-injury employer is unable to accommodate a temporary light duty work release. This program enables the employee to earn income while becoming reacquainted with the work experience following a period of disability. The program could be considered an extension of an employer's existing return to work program, retaining the employee's status with their company by providing a continuation of wages.

Experienced, Trusted, Preferred

ReEmployAbility offers a one-time placement fee that includes referral intake, coordination of the nonprofit assignment, confirmation of the employee's participation, and reporting the employee's progress to the employer contact and/or adjuster throughout the assignment. Our programs are designed to comply with jurisdictional Return to Work legislation and make the process easy for the employer.

With more than 40,000 nonprofit partners nationwide, ReEmployAbility can quickly locate an appropriate assignment for your employee.
On average, a placement is secured in just 2 days.

"The opportunity to be able to continue getting a paycheck and keep my health insurance going through this tough time was a great help. I'm glad a program like this is available."
